I have come across this site by Rob Purser that does a great introductory explanation for ezPublish 3.1 and 2.2 : eZ publish 3.1: Take It For A Spin .

So rather than recreating the wheel, I would like to direct you to his writings for more introductory read as to what you should look for when choosing a content management system.

My hands thus freed, I can now focus my writing on the more technical aspects of ezPublish 4.0.1
