I was dealing with this scenario today. Apparently, I have already populated my webshop on ezpublish with a whole series of product. Everything was great until there a a new requirement that the product prices be displayed in US dollars instead of GBP.

Being puzzled, I did a little research and found this article configuring your site's locale

Apparently there is a whole list of locale supported by ezpublish. If you already have a working installation of ezpublish on you could go to [root folder] > share > locale >

In this folder are a whole list of support locale

Since the current locale is eng-GB corresponding to eng-GB.ini , I will want to change it to United States Locale corresponding to eng-US.ini, so this is what I do go to and edit file [root folder] > settings > override > site.ini.append.php

If there is already an entry

```
[RegionalSettings]
Locale=eng-GB

you will need to change it to

```
[RegionalSettings]
Locale=eng-US

Once done, save the file.

Clear the system cache and it will be displayed properly.

Hope it was helpful.
